Simplifies Your Day

Perfect For In-law Arrangements

Provides Privacy in the Office

The Ajar Position: The Solo will not open a latched door.

The first affordable automatic door operator for the home or office!

Private-Door Solo Features

- Affordably Priced
- Two-Year Warranty
- Optional Remote Control
- Opens and closes the door to the “ajar position*”.
- FreeFloat™ System permits the normal manual operation of the door.
- Obstruction Sensing stops the door on contact with an obstacle.
- 12-Volt wiring eliminates the need for an electrician.
- Retro-fits existing doors. Components mount to the edge of the door, avoiding holes in the surface of the door.
- Components virtually disappear when painted or stained.

The Private-Door Solo is the most affordable way to automate interior doors for home or office. With remote control convenience, you can enjoy privacy and control over your environment. Designed to open and close bedroom and home office doors to the “ajar position”, Private-Door provides privacy for all but the most sensitive situations.

Private-Door permits you to open and close your office door from your desk. Never again interrupt phone conversations with “Please hold while I shut the door.” The Private-Door Solo is simple to install and will retro-fit existing doors.

The Private-Door Solo will not open or close a door completely. To fully automate a door, see the other quality door operators manufactured by Tri-Cor International.

The Private-Door Solo has the following exclusive features:

- Two-year warranty
- No electric strike release
- Retro-fits existing doors
- Free-Float System allows normal manual operation of the door
- Uses a standard 12-volt transformer that plugs into any outlet
